

To subscribe to News from the Art of the Car Concours®, contact Brian Spano at bspano@kcai.edu or 816-802-3532.

Racing legends Sir Stirling Moss and Denise McCluggage to appear at Seventh Annual Art of the Car Concours

With more than 200 vintage, classic and special-interest vehicles set to roll into Kansas City on June 23 for the Seventh Annual Art of the Car Concours, this year's event will offer an added attraction when racing legends Sir Stirling Moss and Denise McCluggage appear in Kansas City.

Both Moss and McCluggage will be the featured speakers on Saturday, June 22, the day before the Concours, for a program recounting their experiences in racing during the 1950s and '60s. In addition, friends of Kansas City racecar driver Masten Gregory, who was known as the "Kansas City Flash," will also be in attendance.

Moss, the most famous racecar driver of the 1950s and '60s, raced from 1948 to 1962, winning 212 of the 529 races he entered, including 16 Formula One Grand Prix races. His success in a variety of categories placed him among the world's elite, and he has often been called "the greatest driver never to win a World Championship."

McCluggage, who was born in El Dorado, Kan., began racing in the mid-1950s, and one of her racing achievements included winning the grand touring category at Sebring in 1961. She ended her racing career in the late 1960s and eventually became editor of Autoweek magazine. She also had a stint at the New York Herald Tribune as a sports journalist.

Gregory was born in Kansas City, Mo., and raced sports cars and Formula One from 1957 to 1965, competing in 43 World Championship races. He was one of three Americans (including Carroll Shelby and Phil Hill) who were actively engaged in the European racing scene beginning in the 1950s. He died in 1985 of a heart attack in Porto Ercole, Italy. Gregory was inducted into the Missouri Sports Hall of Fame in 2005.

“Having both Stirling and Denise attend our weekend events takes the Concours to another level,” said Marshall Miller, founder and chairman of Art of the Car Concours. “Our objective is to raise funds for student scholarships at KCAI. By making the event bigger and better each year, we in turn can continue to provide financial assistance to students wanting to come to the Kansas City Art Institute.” Pictured: (Top) Sir Stirling Moss. Photo courtesy of Sir Stirling Moss. (Middle) Denise McCluggage. (Bottom) McCluggage and Masten Gregory. Photos courtesy of Denise McCluggage.

Deadline for exhibitor applications is March 1

Anyone interested in showing a vehicle in the Seventh Annual Art of the Car Concours, can still submit an application. The deadline for submission is March 1. To confirm if your vehicle qualifies for the event and to download an exhibitor application, visit www.kcai.edu/events/special-events/art-car-concours. There is a $100 application fee. Entry is open to vintage automobiles, motorcycles, trucks, antique bicycles, fire trucks and racecars of exhibition quality. Vehicles newer than 1976 generally are not considered for the Concours. Pictured: 1923 Ford TT One-Ton Truck owned by Tom Robson, as seen at the 2012 Concours. Photo by Mark McDonald.

Volunteer opportunities available for Art of the Car Concours

There are still volunteer opportunities available for the Seventh Annual Art of the Car Concours, scheduled for Sunday June 23. We depend heavily on volunteer assistance to make this event a success. Last year, more than 140 volunteers participated.

Download the volunteer application form, fill out and return to kcaiconcours@millerco.com if you are interested. Volunteers will be invited to attend several training sessions during the spring, prior to the Concours, to help better organize the event and make the day's activities interesting and rewarding for our exhibitors, sponsors, guests and you.

If you have previously volunteered at the Concours and have suggestions for improvements, please let us know. We look forward to working with you in 2013. Pictured: Volunteers help with stuffing, sorting and other miscellaneous preparations for the 2012 Art of the Car Concours. Photo by Mark McDonald.

For more news about the Art of the Car Concours

Visit our official website at www.artofthecarconcours.com.

Like us on Facebook at www.facebook.com/pages/Art-of-the-Car-Concours/175291542493385

Follow us on Twitter at twitter.com/#!/ArtoftheCar